

Business Owners Need Stronger Government Representation

Local Auctioneer John Roebuck believes small business owners lack the government representation larger corporations enjoy, and is organizing a Business Owners Summit to remedy the situation.

“Small businesses are the backbone of this country, hiring and paying a large percentage of the workforce and paying an even larger share of the taxes. Yet we lack any effective representation politically,” Roebuck said.

The goal of the summit is to form a united team seeking the same representation in Washington as the banks, insurance companies and auto manufacturers that were rewarded for their reckless spending by government bail-outs.

“I am angry about it, and I feel business owners should share our common concerns and needs to help us in these tough economic times.”

The summit will be Thursday, March 11th at 7:00 a.m. at the Roebuck Auction Center, 4932 Park Ave. Doors open at 6:00 a.m. for a prayer session. Please RSVP to 763.2825 or by e-mail to john@roebuckauctions.com
